JUDICATURE ACT
RULES OF THE SUPREME COURT, 1986
COURT OF APPEAL PRACTICE NOTE
CAPN No. 2014-01

DATE ISSUED: October 24, 2014

RULES AFFECTED: 57.02; 57.10

EFFECTIVE DATE: Upon publication

The following Practice Note was filed with the Deputy Registrar of the Court of Appeal and is published pursuant to Rule 57.31(3) of the Rules of the Supreme Court, 1986.

Procedure for Staying an Order Pending Appeal

Background and Purpose

1. Under the current rule 57.10(5), to obtain a stay of an order pending appeal to the Court of Appeal, a litigant must first apply for a stay in the court or tribunal below. A litigant dissatisfied with the result of that application has two options: (i) appeal the decision to the Court of Appeal; or (ii) make a further application for a stay to the Court of Appeal, which will be treated as a de novo hearing. In the second circumstance, where the application is heard by a single judge of the Court of Appeal pursuant to s. 10 of the Judicature Act, a litigant dissatisfied with that decision may, pursuant to rule 57.31(4), apply to the Chief Justice for a rehearing before a panel of judges.
2. This multi-stage procedure has led to some confusion regarding the difference between an appeal and a direct application for a stay to the Court of Appeal. In some cases, the current procedure results in extra costs flowing from extra court appearances.
3. As a result, the Rules Committee has recently adopted amendments to rule 57.10 to clarify and to limit the options available to a litigant who wishes to seek a stay of an order pending appeal to the Court of Appeal.
4. The purpose of this Practice Note is to draw these changes to the attention of litigants and the legal profession to reduce confusion, lost time and expense that may otherwise result from transition from the current procedural requirements to the new ones.

Practice Note

5. Upon the coming into force of the amendments, litigants must henceforth make a choice to seek a stay either in the Trial Division under Rule 53A or in the Court of Appeal under rule 57.10. This removes the requirement that a litigant must first seek a stay in the lower court. However, if the litigant chooses to apply to the lower court, he or she will no longer have the opportunity to make a second application for a stay to the Court of Appeal.
6. If the litigant chooses to apply for a stay in the lower court, the decision on such an application may still be appealed to the Court of Appeal but only with leave. The factors to be considered in deciding whether leave should be granted are those set out in rule 57.02(4).
7. If the litigant chooses to apply for a stay directly to the Court of Appeal instead of to the court or tribunal below, and the application is heard by a single judge of the Court of Appeal, a litigant may still seek the leave of the Chief Justice to have the matter reheard by a panel of judges.
8. The effect of the changes to rule 57.10 is therefore that a litigant may choose to apply for a stay of the order appealed from either:
 - (a) at the lower court or tribunal, with the possibility of an appeal of that decision to the Court of Appeal, subject to obtaining leave to appeal; or
 - (b) at first instance in the Court of Appeal, with the possibility, if the application is heard by a single judge, of a rehearing by a panel of three judges, subject to leave of the Chief Justice.
9. There is also an amendment to rule 57.10(2). There is no substantive change to this rule. The amendment is intended to clarify the authority of the Court to order stays.
10. The amendments to the rule come into force upon publication in The Newfoundland and Labrador Gazette and will apply where the order in respect of which the stay is being sought was made after the amendment comes into force.

RULES OF THE SUPREME COURT, 1986

COURT OF APPEAL PRACTICE NOTE

CAPN No. 2014-02

DATE ISSUED: October 24, 2014

RULES AFFECTED: 57.01; 57.03; 57.06; 57.14

EFFECTIVE DATE: Upon publication

The following practice Note was filed with the Deputy Registrar of the Court of Appeal and is published pursuant to rule 57.31(4) of the Rules of the Supreme Court, 1986.

Amendments to Transcript Preparation Requirements

Background and Purpose

1. On January 23, 2013, practice note CAPN No. 2013-01 regarding the filing and use of transcripts was issued by the Court of Appeal. The purpose was to reduce associated costs and delays, and to streamline the process for both the parties and the Court. Panels hearing appeals have found that the full transcript is, in most cases, unnecessary for purposes of determining the issues under appeal. The practice note requires counsel to file a certificate with the Court stating that consideration has been given to limiting the portions of the transcript necessary to conduct the appeal, and that only the necessary portions are being provided.
2. The change sought by means of the practice note has not produced the hoped-for result. A full transcript is being filed in almost all cases. The Court of Appeal Rules Committee considered that at least part of the difficulty may relate to when the transcript is required to be filed, that is, as part of the Appeal Book. At that time, it may be more difficult for counsel to ascertain which parts of the transcript will be required.
3. To address this issue, the Court of Appeal Rules Committee determined that it would be more appropriate to file the transcript at the same time as the factum is filed, rather than as part of the Appeal Book. This would permit a more focused consideration regarding the portion of the transcript necessary for the appeal. This should result in a reduction of the portion of transcript required to be filed with the Court, even if a full transcript was earlier obtained by the appellant. When filing the factum, counsel will have already addressed the issues in detail and should be in a position to identify more precisely what parts of the transcript would be necessary for purposes of the appeal.
4. The Rules Committee also considered it advisable that the rules of court should provide that, at the same time as filing the factum and transcript, counsel should also be required to file a certificate comparable to the one now required under practice note CAPN No. 2013-01 stating that only the necessary portions of the transcript are being filed, or, if the entire transcript is being filed, the specific reasons for doing so.
5. It was also considered appropriate for the rules of court to address more particularly the use and filing of electronic versions of the transcript.
6. Rule 57 was accordingly amended to effect the foregoing purposes.
7. The purpose of this Practice Note is to draw these changes to the attention of litigants and the legal profession and to indicate that previous practice notes dealing with various aspects of transcript preparation and filing must now be read in accordance with these developments.

Practice Note

8. Under the new rule, the appellant is required to file only the portions of the transcript “necessary to enable the issues on appeal to be determined”. Should the respondent, or another appellant where there is more than one appellant, determine that additional portions of the transcript are required, those portions may be filed with that party’s factum. A certificate comparable to that required to be filed by the appellant applies with the necessary changes.
9. Where the transcript necessary for determination of the appeal is voluminous, a party may provide, or the Court may require, a book of excerpts for use at the hearing.
10. The appellant is also required to file one electronic version of the written transcript where a written transcript of the entire evidence has been prepared; or, where only part of the written transcript has been prepared, one electronic version of the written transcript together with one electronic version of the entire audio recording. “Electronic version” is defined as a version in a format acceptable to the Court. “Written transcript” is defined as a printed transcript of the evidence, which does not include submissions unless they are necessary for determination of the issues under appeal.
11. The parties may, by agreement, apply to the Court for an order and directions permitting the use of the electronic rather than a paper version of the written transcript, or, in appropriate circumstances, the audio recording. In exceptional cases, the Court may also, on its own motion, dispense with the preparation and filing of a written transcript and order that the appeal proceed using an audio recording of the proceedings in the court or tribunal from which the appeal is taken.
12. Rule 57.03 requiring counsel to file a letter undertaking to request a transcript has been repealed. Instead, the appellant is required to obtain a copy of the audio recording “forthwith”, i.e. without any unnecessary delay, from the court appealed from, and to deliver a copy to each party. Then, “without delay”, the appellant is required to arrange for preparation of a written transcript of the evidence that is necessary for preparation of the factum. The appellant is required to advise the other parties “forthwith” what arrangement has been made and when the transcript is expected to be completed.
13. Counsel are encouraged to make use of an agreed statement of facts on the appeal where such is appropriate. For example, this may occur where the appeal engages issues of law without any dispute as to the facts. (Where the matter proceeded on an agreed statement of facts in the court below, the agreed statement of facts must in any event be filed in the Appeal Book.)
14. The new rule also stipulates the procedural requirements for preparing and filing the transcript.
15. The above requirements are set out in rules 57.06 and 57.06.1.
16. In addition to the foregoing changes, certain other consequential amendments have been made to the rules:
 - (a) Current rules 57.06, and 57.03(5), (6) and (7) are repealed;
 - (b) Rule 57.01 includes definitions of (e.1) “electronic version” and (n) “written transcript”; and
 - (c) Provisions in rule 57.14 requiring the transcript to be filed with the Appeal Book are repealed.
17. The amendments to the rules come into force upon publication in The Newfoundland and Labrador Gazette and will apply where the order under appeal was made after the amendments come into force.
18. To the extent to which Practice Notes CAPN No. 2006-01, CAPN No. 2011-01 and CAPN No. 2013-01 are inconsistent with this practice note, they shall be read as having been amended accordingly.

1. (1) Rule 57.01 of the Rules of the Supreme Court, 1986 is amended by adding immediately after paragraph (e) the following:

(e.1) "electronic version" means an electronic version in a format acceptable to the Court;

(2) Rule 57.01 of the rules is amended by deleting the word "and" at the end of paragraph (l), by deleting the period at the end of paragraph (m) and substituting a semi-colon and the word "and" and by adding immediately after paragraph (m) the following:

- (n) "written transcript" means a printed transcript of the evidence but does not include submissions to the Court made by a party unless those submissions are necessary to enable an issue raised on appeal to be determined.

2. Rules 57.03(5), (6) and (7) of the rules are repealed.

3. Rule 57.06 of the rules is repealed and the following substituted:

Transcripts

57.06 (1) An appellant shall not file the written transcript in its entirety unless the whole of the transcript is necessary to enable the issues on appeal to be determined.

(2) Together with the factum, the appellant, or the first appellant where there is more than one appellant, shall file with the Court

- (a) 4 copies of the portion of the written transcript that is necessary to enable the issues on appeal to be determined; and

(b) a certificate in Form 57.06A

- (i) stating that the appellant is satisfied that the portions of the written transcript being filed are necessary to enable the issues on appeal to be determined, or

- (ii) if the appellant is satisfied, upon careful review, that the whole of the written transcript is necessary to enable the issues on appeal to be determined, stating, with particulars, the reasons for drawing that conclusion.

(3) Where there is more than one appellant, and an appellant other than the first appellant is satisfied that a portion of the written transcript has not been filed that is necessary to enable the issues on appeal to be determined, that appellant may file additional portions of the transcript, and the requirements of rule 57.06(2) shall apply with the necessary changes.

(4) Where a respondent is satisfied that an appellant has not filed a portion of the written transcript that is necessary to enable the issues on appeal or on a cross-appeal to be determined, the respondent may file additional portions of the transcript, and the requirements of rule 57.06(2) shall apply with the necessary changes.

(5) Not later than 5 clear days before the hearing of the appeal, additional portions of the written transcript may be filed where a party determines it to be necessary to enable the issues on appeal or cross-appeal to be determined, and the requirements of rule 57.06(2) shall apply with the necessary changes.

(6) Upon filing a notice of appeal, the appellant, or the first appellant where there is more than one appellant, shall forthwith obtain a copy of the audio recording of the evidence from the court appealed from and shall deliver a copy to each party.

(7) The appellant, or the first appellant where there is more than one appellant, shall,

(a) without delay, arrange for preparation of a written transcript of the portion of evidence necessary for preparation of the factum; and

(b) forthwith advise each party what arrangement has been made and the date when the written transcript is expected to be completed.

(8) If the appellant fails to comply with rule 57.06(7), the respondent may make an application to the Court for directions, and the Court may give such directions and make such order as to costs as may be appropriate.

(9) In addition to the portion of the written transcript required to be filed under paragraphs 57.06(1) to (4), the appellant, or the first appellant where there is more than one appellant, shall file with the Court

(a) where the entire written transcript of the evidence has been prepared, one electronic version of the transcript; or

(b) where the entire written transcript of the evidence has not been prepared,

(i) one electronic version of the portion of the written transcript that has been prepared, and

(ii) one electronic version of the entire audio recording of the evidence.

(10) The Court may at any time, upon application or of its own motion, order the filing of all or part of the written transcript.

(11) A written transcript shall be prepared in accordance with the Recording of Evidence Act and the Transcript Standards Manual of the Court Reporters' Office.

(12) Where possible a key word index shall be included at the end of the written transcript.

(13) A party disputing the accuracy of a transcript may make an application to the Court for directions.

(14) A Court determining the issues on appeal or cross-appeal may make an appropriate order as to costs if it is of the opinion that an appellant or respondent failed to comply with this rule.

(15) Together with a factum, one copy of each document filed with the Court shall be delivered to each party to the appeal.

(16) The cover of the written transcript shall be grey, and the transcript may be filed

(a) in a format in which 4 pages of the transcript are printed on a single page; and

(b) with the pages double-sided.

(17) Where the portion of the written transcript considered to be necessary to enable the issues on appeal or on cross-appeal to be determined is voluminous, a party may provide, or the Court may require a party to provide, a book of excerpts where that would be convenient for presentation of submissions at the oral hearing.

(18) The parties may, by agreement, apply to the Court for an order and directions to permit the use of an electronic rather than a paper version of the written transcript.

(19) Upon application, or of its own motion, the Court may at any time dispense with the preparation and filing of a written transcript and order that the appeal proceed using an audio recording of the proceedings in the court or tribunal from which the appeal is taken, and the Court may give such directions as may be appropriate.

4. The rules are amended by adding immediately after rule 57.06 the following:

Alternative to transcript

57.06.1In lieu of the written transcript, an agreed statement of facts may be filed with the appellant's factum along with a certificate signed on behalf of all parties indicating their agreement.

5. (1) Rule 57.14(2) of the rules is repealed.

(2) Rule 57.14(3)(b)(iv) of the rules is repealed.

(3) Rule 57.14(3)(b)(vi) of the rules is repealed.

(4) Rule 57.14(4) of the rules is repealed and the following substituted:

(4) In a tribunal appeal an appeal book shall be prepared so far as possible as prescribed by rule 57.14(3) but, if necessary, the appellant may apply to the Court for directions regarding the form and content of the appeal book.

(5) Rule 57.14(5) of the rules is repealed and the following substituted:

(5) The parties may by agreement omit any exhibits or documents which would normally be included in an appeal book in order to avoid the filing of material not necessary to enable the issues raised on appeal to be determined.

(5.1) Where the matter under appeal proceeded by way of an agreed statement of facts, the agreed statement of facts shall be filed as part of the appeal book.

(6) Rule 57.14(7) of the rules is repealed.

Transitional

6. These amendments shall apply where the order under appeal was made after these amendments come into force.

(2) On application of a party, the Court may

(a) stay an order appealed from pending disposition of the appeal; and

(b) in respect of an order by a tribunal that has been the subject of judicial review or a statutory appeal, stay the order of the tribunal pending disposition of the appeal.

(2) Rule 57.10(5) of the rules is repealed and the following substituted:

(5) Where the Supreme Court, Trial Division has made an order regarding the stay of an order pending appeal, that order may be appealed to the Court of Appeal only with leave.

(6) Where no application to stay an order pending appeal has been made in the Supreme Court, Trial Division, an application to stay the order pending appeal may be made to the Court of Appeal.

Transitional

3. These amendments to the rules shall apply where the order in respect of which a stay is being sought was made after these amendments come into force.
